

Ocean Sonics Ltd.
110 Parkway Drive
Truro Heights, NS B6L 1N8
Canada
+1 902-655-3000

Ocean Sonics Ltd. (www.OceanSonics.com) is a scaling, innovative, Ocean Technology company that provides products and solutions for sound measurements in the ocean. The iListen Smart Hydrophone has changed the way we make decisions, where life in the ocean matters!

Ocean Sonics is currently seeking an Assembly Technician to help produce electronic products and sensors to the highest quality standards.

Production Duties

- Soldering
- Assembling, wiring and testing and calibration of electronic products
- Cable assembly
- Working with potting material for the purpose of waterproofing product
- Basic troubleshooting
- Data recording/record keeping
- Adherence to high level of quality standards

Requirements

- Must have excellent manual dexterity and eye hand co-ordination
- High school diploma required. Post-secondary education in Electronics is an asset
- Minimum of 1 years of experience soldering RoHS electronic components an asset but will train
- Able to read and interpret, drawings and specifications

Competencies

- Good communication skills (verbal and written) are required
- Ability to follow work instructions and manuals
- Quality and productivity of work is very important

Compensation and Benefits

Ocean Sonics is offering full time employment and a competitive wage and benefits package. We are committed to training to keep all of our employees at their peak performance.

This is an excellent opportunity to bring your education and experience to a dynamic team. If you are an energetic team player interested in an exciting challenge, please forward a copy of your resume to resumes@oceansonics.com.